Professional Summary

I am a motivated and detail-oriented entry-level software developer with a strong interest in backend development, DevOps, and blockchain technologies. I am proficient in C++, Python, and Solidity, with hands-on experience in building web applications and basic smart contracts. I am skilled in Docker, ReactJS, and Django REST API, with familiarity in Web3 technologies, MySQL, PostgreSQL, Git, and Linux system administration. While still developing my problem-solving skills, I am eager and capable of taking on challenges, learning quickly, and finding solutions to a wide range of technical issues. I am eager to learn, grow, and contribute to meaningful projects within a collaborative environment.
